

R.M. Williams
OUTBACK

The heart of Australia

R.M.Williams OUTBACK is a multi award-winning bi-monthly magazine that captures the essence of remote Australia and, by showcasing it in a positive way, brings alive a world that is unknown to many people.

Essentially, OUTBACK is about life beyond the city – anywhere that is remote, different, challenging and non-urban. It is in south-west Tasmania, the High Country of Victoria, and along the Great Divide in New South Wales, just as much as it is in central Australia.

CURRENT ISSUE

October/November 2025

Issue 163

On Sale 29/09/2025

REGULAR SECTIONS

OUTBACK STORY: Major feature; industry/geographic/thematic.

STATIONS: Large showcase of agricultural/pastoral endeavour.

TRACKS: Adventures through the bush - generally road-based.

TRAVEL: Unique escapes across regional Australia.

GEAR: Reviews of useful and interesting equipment.

PEOPLE: Character-driven profiles of remarkable individuals.

BUSINESS: Highlights successful outback businesses.

HORIZONS: New horizons, both literal and figurative.

HISTORY: Stories about historical figures and events.

ART: Contemporary and traditional artists in the bush.

NATURE: People actively working for and with the environment.

EVENTS: Gymkhanas, desert races, bush festivals - we're there.

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS

STATIONS: Published every 2 years, Stations magazine contains in-depth, beautifully produced stories on 10-12 outstanding, and often remote, sheep and cattle properties from around Australia.

GREAT AUSTRALIANS: Australia's outback is full of amazing characters, many of whom make massive contributions to their communities or within their fields. Every 2 years, R.M.Williams Publishing gathers the stories of 20 extraordinary Australians into Great Australians magazine.

RECENT PODCAST EPISODES

In good times and bad: how the FRRR seeks to fortify rural Australia, with CEO Natalie Egleton.

Bush nurse: John Wright tried several jobs before he found his calling in remote health care.

A journey in hats: Becky-Jane Fortin, international milliner and Akubra repairer.

From master craftsman to keeper of the flame: a journey in boots with long-time R.M. Williams employee Michael Williams.

The bravest scout at Gallipoli: remembering forgotten war hero Harry Freame.

We bought the vets: Longreach farmer James Walker, 3 years after he and his family came to the rescue of Longreach Veterinary Service.

www.outbackmag.com.au